

Top 10 Tips Organizing The Perfect Romantic Getaway

Kutztown's unprecedented 10-1 run through the 2010 regular season earned them Super Region 1's top seed in the NCAA Division II playoffs. The Golden Bears recorded their best regular season in the program's long history, one that had been marked with mediocrity and futility.

Where you would like to go for your Romantic Fall Getaway is up to you, and as long as you go and have fun together, it truly doesn't matter where you go. You are able to locate a small bed and breakfast that may be nearby in case you wish, or you'll be able to get on a plane and fly somewhere for a longer weekend. Either way, you just have got to have time to be together with nothing else intending on and your weekend is going to be what you hope it is going to be. Don't make your expectations too high, just go to become with one another and relax.

So if you're an active geocacher, get your GPSr loaded up and ready to make a find on Sunday. If you haven't made a find in a while, Sunday's a great time to get back into it. And if you've never geocached before...well, 10-10-10 is your time! The Minnesota forecast looks spectacular- perhaps even record-breaking- so take advantage of a beautiful Fall Weekend Getaways and help contribute to a record!

Watch your wedding video - If you're not up for a big night out or vacation this year, spend a night inside. Get some popcorn, put on slippers and sweatpants, and spend an evening watching your wedding video and leafing through your wedding album. Make sure the kids are at a sleepover or over at Grandma's--this night should be all about the two of you. If you prefer, cook a simple meal for dinner--or order Chinese food. Above all, concentrate on each other and on your wedding day. It might be low-key, but it will set the stage for a perfectly Anniversary Getaway.
